The Autographic Deposition of Chung-wang, the Faithful King, at his Trial After the Capture of Nanking. (Continued

Our ill success at Chien-chang led me to withdraw my forces from that place and proceed to Hoochow (in the Kiangse province). From there-I made a circuit to Yi-huang, and thence to Chang-shu and Sin-kan, encamping somewhere in the neighborhood of these two latter places. My Imperialist troops, but no sooner did our mon intention was to cross the (Kan) river, but unfortunately, in addition to the water being very high the whole of the opposite shere was covered with. militia or volunteers who had extended their liner from Heng-chieng to Chi-ngan, and in the rived itself were numerous Imperialist guuboats. I has no boats in which to cross, and I could not very The army of Chang-yu-hang was the only one well retrent from my position. After staying at outside, and this made an attempt to succour the the people insisted upon my doing so, and I the refore distributed my mon over the different cities for the purpose of quieting the people. I likewise kept some men in Yi-ning, Wu-ning, and in many of the cities in Hoopeli, is order to keep the people yeling, that they maintained an obstinate resisin order, and at the same time I made arragements tance. Several notifications were issued by me for the reception of those who had previously and sent into city addressed to the Manchoos and agreed to come over to us, the number of whom Chinese, tolling them that those who wished to agreed to come over to us, the number of which amounted to probably about 300,000 men. The facts relating to the capture of Ningpo may be summed up as follows .- The foreign devils in Ningpo invited our men to come to that place, and when the troops had arrived within three miles of the city, the chief devil came out to the Taiwang's camp and requested the Tai-wang to allow five days grace fur the removal of the things from the foreign hongs. The troops wanted to enter at once but the Tsi-wang would not allow them to do so. He ultimately consented to a delay of three days and agreed to encamp outside during that interval. The provisions for our force were meanwhile supplied by the foreign devils and natives from surrounding places. On the fourth morning the troops moved into the city and the Tai-wang was then taken to Hai-mun (ting), and the Chinhai district by the foreign devils, who murcover, rendered him assistance with boats, Both of those places were garrisoned, and the remainder of the troops who had gone that to effect their conquest then returned to Ningpo. Upon this subject I might ablarge to any extent, but

The former place has a very high wall, and a very deep most, and moreover is surrounded by water and approached by a TWO or Three ROOMS, in a Ten-roomed House very narrow road, which would have rendered our possession next to impossible had it not been given up. At this period the Cheklang capital was the only place not in our hands. Wu-king, Teching were garrisoned by our men. Hsino-feng, Hunng-te, and the other districts, such as Kaotun and Teng-pa, were in our hands. Li-yang, Changehow, Scochow, Klasing and Shih-men were also ours. In 1862, a British force, consisting of some Artillery, the 31st and 67th Regiments, two companies of the 99th Foot, the 5th Bengal Native Infantry, the 22nd Punjauhens, and some with and equal force of the French (chasseurs, zephyre, and marines,) the Franco-Chinese, and the Ward contingents, were employed in the vi-cinity of Shanghai against the Taiping rebels, with whom engagements took place at Cheapo and Naihsain in April, Kah-ding, Nai-haain (26,) Taingpoo, Naijao, and Teo-ling in May, Tsingpoo (2nd) i resulting, on each occasion, in severe loss to the Chang-mous, and in small loss to the allies, this latter being the result of the skilful disposition of te. the allied troops, and the patient and very effective use made of their artillery, the maxim of the commanders in chief being, "Forty shells before medal to those who, like myself, were detached at Hong-Kong during the successful raid upon Pekin" in 1860, or upon those who arrived, as the reinforcements did (which left England in July, 1860), too late to participate in the glories of Tung-ku and Sing-ho, or even in the look at Hoosi-woo, or Yuen-ming-yuen. It may be objected by some that the services rendered by the troops under Brigadier-General Staveley, O B., the Navy, nuder Sir J. Hope, K. C. B., and by the French, under the late lamanted Admiral Protet: were not of that im portance to justify the grant of a medal or clasp to those concerned. But let those who so object reflect but for a moricul that an immenso, rapidly increasing, and wealthy city, the trade of which is alone worth to England, the colonies and America more than 17,000,0004 sterling anmully-was threatened with devostation by the merciless hordes of the Tien-Wang, whose theat harness room and room over for servants; of the province and those adjacent to it and an im- harness room and room over for servince. partial verdict, in favour of the decoration, will be the conclusion arrived at.
